The Final Day

“Something really powerful happened on this program’s final CLIMB day before graduation. Our closure activities that day helped the moms recognize how much they had changed and worked as a team. It was emotional for them to reflect back on when they started and the ‘Letters To Self’ they wrote in their first group session.

At graduation, they all found their voice and thanked their ‘team’ for the support and friendship throughout the program. They were proud to let their families know it was hard to complete the program but they were able to do it and are looking forward to a new chapter in their lives.”

— Lesha Thorvaldson, Casper Program Director

“You can get a lot out of CLIMB and always have a support system.”

— Deanna, Program Participant
