MOVING FORWARD WITH CONFIDENCE!

“The challenges of being a single mom are real, especially when you are struggling to find a job. It can impact your confidence and be discouraging. In response, this training was very strength-focused, which allowed the women to concentrate on the qualities they have that will be an asset in the workplace.

“I am becoming a person who is not so worried about the future and is finally moving forward. I’m not stuck anymore.”

— Courtney, Program Participant

The women felt so much more willing to be their true selves by the end of the program. They were more confident, more positive, more trusting, and more accepting of who they are. They can now see a brighter future for themselves and their families.”

-Jenn Whitehead, Assistant Program Director
