GAINING CONFIDENCE

“Before Climb, the women in this program said they wanted something different for their kids. They yearned for self-sufficiency, independence, and the skills to navigate personal relationships at home and work.

“Because of Climb, I don’t have to worry anymore. Now I have the hope to make my dreams come true.”

— Jenny, Program Participant

By the end of the program, they used words like, “fearless,” “successful,” and “confident” to describe themselves. Each mom believed in herself so much more. Best of all, they now have commercial driving skills that, combined with their confidence, will propel them far in the workforce and in life.”
